FRIDAY MORNING APRIL 10 1863

By Telegraph.

The dispatch this morning is brief and unimportant, the Porter expedition turns out not to have been entirely fruitless, and previous reports as to the evacuation of Pensacola, are confirmed The troops, before leaving signalized their departure and manifested the bitterness of their wrath by burning every house, but two All efforts to restrain them seems to have been useless—this is one of the melancholy consequences of the war, perhaps aggravated in Pensacola by the abusive conduct of the people, and their treatment of the troops, which have induced the most intense spirit of revenge, perhaps also, the fact that the leniency manifested last year towards the citizens of captured towns, afterwards evacuated seemed only to make their subjects more atrocious and cruel than ever, operated in this case and made the soldiers unwilling to leave standing any place or dwelling which treason could use hereafter as a home or as a fortress. Whatever the motive, the act is deplorable, but hereafter, we shall not be surprised to learn that every Southern city, which does not recognize and support at least nominally, the Federal Government, is laid waste, and made a wilderness

The foreign news chronicles new outrages of the Alabama, and may perhaps arouse the Navy Department to the vigilance, which the Secretary has so often promised, but as yet does not seem to accomplish or to reach The money promises of the Rebel States appear to find ready purchasers in London, and it is not unlikely that these speculators in the confederate fund will make renewed efforts to induce interference of the English Government, for the purpose of protecting the shipment of the vast quantities of cotton, upon the sale of which the loan is based. It is presumed, however, that this adroit game cannot be successfully played—certainly it will not be, if Great Britain insists with any conscience and consistency upon the neutrality proclamation, though its recent poorly disguised sympathy for the Confederacy, as manifested in tolerating the sale and fitting out of piratical vessels, and in allowing the public offer of stocks, designed solely for the support of the rebellion, makes the proclamation nearly as stupendous a sham and humbug as its pretended love for anti slavery England is sowing to the wind, and the whirlwind harvest is sure to come in good time

The last sentence of the dispatch is a mystery, or a blunder, and we are left to suppose that communication was interrupted before the sentence was completed

Soldiers' Pay.

EDITOR OREGONIAN

Maj. Winston's letter in your paper this morning surprises me, for that officer certainly did say lately, in this city, that he had just received $100,000, about four fifths of which was coin. If he has disbursed all that amount, and by the last steamer received another large remittance, in paper currency, his letter and previous statement are consistent, but that he recently admitted his receipt of a large amount of coin is unquestionable. Facts

Portland April 8th, 1863

In our remarks upon this subject, last Monday, we did not intend to state that the amount referred to came by last steamer, but that it had been recently received It is possible that our first informant alluded, not to the remittance which Maj. Winston's letter acknowledges as having come by last steamer, but to that received previously, though we supposed that reference was had to money which had not been disbursed, as we have not recently heard of any payments to the troops in coin sufficient to amount to $80,000, or upwards. We have no doubt that Maj Winston can fully explain the matter to any one interested. Our only purpose in making the original statement, which we believed to be entirely correct, was to furnish gratifying intelligence to the soldiers and their friends, who are somewhat concerned in their pay

THE WORDS OF A PATRIOT SOLDIER —The gallant General Rousseau, who may be said to have led Kentucky into the hold, made a speech at Lancaster, Pennsylvania, in which he said

"My political creed is but a minute long I am for the Government of my fathers and the friends of that Government and I am against the enemies of that Government and all their friends both North and South"

Giving a timely warning to his hearers, he added

"No matter what your political predilections may be, unite to save the country, and after that settle questions of policy Let not your differences of opinion weaken the arms of the brave men who are fighting that you may be free In the Army of the Cumberland, in which I have the honor to command a division officers and men know only the cause of their country, all are united in a common work no dissension or jealousies weaken their force"

Competition in Steamers to California

The Bulletin's New York correspondent states that the Central American Transit company is already engaged in effecting its purpose by purchase or charter a number of steamers to put on the Atlantic end of the Nicaragua route to California forthwith, to run in connection with the Uncle Sam on the Pacific until arrangements now in progress for a complete through line of new vessels can be perfected The vessels on this side will be manned with Californians, and the British line will belong to a company composed of both American and British subjects and all their ships will eventually carry the British flag Of course all this means will be safe in these steamers and war risks of insurance will speedily decline upon all shipments sent via Nicaragua so soon as the British ship is running between New York and Greytown

At last your people have a prospect of relief from the long and heavy handed tyranny of Vanderbilt and the Pacific Mail Steamship Company For this they are indebted in no slight degree to the Hon John Phelps whose letter to the Secretary of the Treasury was which drew from Mr Chase the decision throwing the trade open to the only competition which the monopoly is not powerful enough to crush

The Pacific Mail Steamship Company have had under consideration the plan of employing eminent counsel to remonstrate with Mr Chase against the policy he has adopted and have talked in this connection of the Hon Robert J Walker who they suppose will have influence with the Secretary because of the able and patriotic aid he has given that officer's financial measures before Congress The Company seem to forget however that Mr Chase is a good lawyer that he has only given his decision as to what the law is and that no amount of personal pressure is likely to change his judicial opinion on that point Next the monopoly look to legislation by Congress for relief and have invited the Pacific coast delegates to go out per steamer of the 1st April, as guests of the Company The motive is transparent, and it will be curious and instructive to ascertain what if any of your members are weak enough to accept such under the circumstances, is evidently designed to be a bribe

A telegraphic dispatch this week stated that all the Pacific members of Congress were to come out together on the steamer of the 1st inst. We hope that their journey will not tend to accomplish the purpose so much suggested If so the people of this coast had better pay their traveling expenses as well as their enormous mileage

A PATRIOTIC BISHOP — At the great Union meeting in Cincinnati on Monday evening February 23d, a letter was read from Bishop Rosecrans, of the Catholic Church, (brother of the General) expressing the most patriotic sentiments We quote

To abandon our free Government because we must wait a year or two to get rulers to suit us would be unutterable meanness of spirit To give up our national integrity our legitimate Government, our old flag, disband our army, and wait to see what dispositions General Bragg's army will choose to make of us when it comes North again, would be suicidal folly

God keep us from such folly and its disastrous consequences! May the gloom that hangs over us now make us forget all differences of minor importance, and join together, heart and soul, in giving the cause of order and justice a triumph over both the shortsightedness of its friends and the treacherous violence of its enemies

CROMWELL ON DESTRUCTIVE CONSERVATISM —In a speech to Parliament in 1656, the great Protector, in defending his administration touched upon a doctrine which is peculiar just now with the friends of secession and the enemies of the national life, and exposed its fallacy, almost as if by anticipation

"If nothing should ever be done but what is according to law, the throat of the nation may be cut while we send for some to make a law! Therefore certainly it is a pitiful beastly notion to think, though it be for ordinary government to live by law and rule, yet if a government in extraordinary circumstances go beyond the law even for self preservation, it is to be clamored at and blustered at When matters of necessity come then, without guilt, extraordinary remedies may be applied And I must say I do not know one action of this government in not one, but it hath been in order to the peace and safety of this nation"

A SOLDIER TO THE PEOPLE —General Lewis Wallace closed a speech in Cincinnati the other evening, in which he rebuked in stirring terms, the peacemongers of the North as follows

Fellow citizens, will you permit this thing? Stand by the army—everything depends upon it. What though you are subjected to privations at home? What, though you even go to the hard bread and spoiled pork of the soldier, stand by the army for God's sake stand by it What, though your families give up their luxuries and your daughters wear the rags of your grandmothers? What though trifle diminishes and steamboats hover long at your wharves, be content and stand firm Stand by the army, and rest assured the army will stand by you

A PUGET SOUND ARADDIN' —John T Wright Jr & Co are at work constructing a new propeller to run on the Sound between this port and New Westminster The propeller will be 144 feet in length, 26 feet beam and 11 feet 6 in hold depth of hull Her engines and boiler were built in Glasgow Scotland The propeller will be modeled after the famous Confederate privateer Alabama a description of which was published in a Scottish scientific periodical last autumn and from which description a model was made by Henry Owens, of San Francisco On board will be a patent centrifugal working pump capable of discharging 750 barrels of water per minute which can be brought into operation at short notice in case of the occurrence of a wreck in this waters, which it could put to account in relieving the distressed vessel of the water in her hold The new steamer will have excellent passenger accommodations and a carrying capacity of 400 tons — She will be ready for service about July 1st — Victoria Chronicle

The London Builder says a company has been formed to bring into practical use a patented fluted nail recently invented in England they are fluted and twisted in a manner and manufactured as cheaply as common nails The holding qualities of these nails are remarkable no holes are required to be made before driving those of the largest size and there is no danger of board splitting however near to the edge the nails be driven The spiral twist causes the nail to revolve as it advances and its tenacity of holding is equal to that of a wood screw

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

LATER FROM THE EAST.

Dates to April 4th!

YREKA, April 4

CAIRO, April 1—The dispatch boat from the mouth of the Yazoo on Thursday has arrived Porter says that though unsuccessful in the main did succeed in destroying about 1,000 bales of cotton marked 'C S A,' and also captured a considerable quantity of [illegible] When the boat left all the gunboats were taking on board 10 days rations and there were indications that another move was in preparation but in what direction was not known.

The Federal fleet carefully night work has been added in planting two 64 pounder rifled Parrott guns on the levee which it is said, will be eight feet high at a point directly opposite Vicksburg, which besides protecting the levee will turn the shots from the rifled batteries up in the air These guns, it is said, completely command the earth used, as well as the other important building in the city Their effectiveness will soon be tried

Refugees arrive from Yazoo Pass The Bulletin of Wednesday says that on Friday morning the battle was renewed; Greenwood by the Chickasaw and the De Kalb and the rebel batteries The firing was brisk but with what effect was not known as the dispatch boat came away while the firing was going on On the contrary Gen Hurlbut says that it was his impression that the expedition was abandoned, and one of his staff reports three transports loaded with troops which he understood had come from the Yazoo Pass

CHICAGO, April 4—Tuesday's New York Herald dispatch says that Capt Crawford, Organ who commands the armed escort specially Government for emigrants to the Pacific coast, has arrived at Washington He reports already fifty thousand emigrants moving and that during and since the month of March the whole season a hundred thousand

NEW YORK April 4—A New Orleans letter reports the evacuation of the town of Pensacola Part of the troops were sent to New Orleans and those left have begun into the navy yard All the dwellings in Pensacola except Mallory's and Myer Chase's were burned The soldiers seemed to think the evacuation of the place was intended Many swore they would burn the town On Thursday many fires made their appearance and for three days and nights the place was filled with smoke and fire The officers tried to stop the work of destruction but seemed to have no influence over the men Even the soldiers on guard set property on fire Col Dager commander of the post, issued orders to shoot persons caught setting fires, but no one executed them

HALIFAX, April 3 —Steamer Canada with Liverpool dates of the 21st March and Queenstown to the 22d has arrived The ship Celaus from Antwerp, arrived at Southampton on the 19th March, having been captured by the Alabama February 20th but was released on bond of $50 000 She brought the crews of the Golden Eagle Oliver Jane and Palmetto burned by the Alabama The Confederate loan would close on March 27th the bids having greatly exceeded the amount needed, particularly in London Report says that the telegrams say the stock was quite the rage there The London Times city article says that it seems evident, so far as London is concerned that viewing it as a cotton speculation whatever other attraction it possesses must be found in other respects, there can be no doubt that a majority of the merchants and capitalists would have wished that it had never been introduced The Star cannot believe that bona fide customers can be found to take the loan at par unless better security can be afforded them than hypothecation, which it may never be in the power of Jeff Davis & Co to deliver The Daily News editorially denounces the loan, and says it is a flagrant indecency and immorality, and will scandalize most Englishmen who have any regard for the reputation of their country The loan closed on the 20th at 4½@4¾ premium Bids reached £10 000 000, and were expected to be £10,000 000 or £18 000 000 at the close.

The match has been concluded for a prize fight between Heenan and King for the championship for £1,000 a side to come off on the 8th of December

In the House of Commons, Laird, in reply to an inquiry said that since the breaking out of the civil war connection (?) between the British Government and the United States had been suspended

VICTOR SMITH LIEUT MERRIMAN, AND THE PUGET SOUND IMBROGLIO —I learn from the Treasury Department that Lieut Merriman of the U S Revenue service has been ordered to Washington and understand that he is to be peremptorily dismissed upon arrival here for having made false charges of malfeasance in office against Victor Smith Collector of the Puget Sound district and for opposing force to the official action of that officer in August last It does not seem probable that the lieutenant's fate can be averted, as Mr Chase is determined to make an example that shall tend to check insubordination everywhere in his department of the Government The Secretary expects every officer to do his duty without fear or favor, but he will hold each responsible for the exercise of ordinary care and wisdom, to avoid unnecessary scandal, and the spirit of insubordinat on and bickering so prejudicial to the highest interests of the public service—and which has nowhere, perhaps done more mischief than in California —Cor N Y Bulletin

HEAVY ON THE COPPERHEADS —In noticing the efforts of the peace copperhead democrats in Illinois and Indiana to get up a Peace Convention at Louisville the Richmond (Va) Examiner says (we)

If the Yankee nation the debt they have run and the Government they have established and are the sons and disciples of such traitors—this will be settled and although we shall be ruined the mean time it will not be [illegible] although we shall not exactly respect the motives in that affair yet we shall not be unwilling to trade with them—hit him again and again—and to show them all suitable civilities but not a proper distance

After reading the above, we should suppose the rebel Southern copperheads of the Northwest would feel very much disgusted with their friends in the rebel South The rebels treat all propositions for a reconstruction of the Union as well as those copperhead democrats who propose them with contempt —See Union

U. S. INCOME TAX.

THE LAW CONTEMPLATES THAT EVERY ONE of all pay on all nett profits (less $600) derived from any source whatever A person is allowed to deduct all legally assessed National, State and County Taxes, hired help Rents Drayage &c [illegible] ry to carry on his business but no former merchant, mechanic, or any person has a right to deduct his own labor as so much expense from his income

The Income Tax is to be paid on the income of the year commencing January 1st 1862 so that on the evening of December 31st 1862, every body should make up a record of their income gains or profits for that year And as many sources of income, such as Dividends and Railroad Bonds and Stocks Insurance Stock, Savings Banks Interest &c (they having already paid the Income tax) are not again taxed It therefore becomes necessary to have a clear record of the sources of income, that there may be no dispute with the Assessor

All corporations must deduct the three per centum before declaring their dividends

For Example!

A man in business must make up the nett profits of his business for the year, and pay the tax on the amount less $600

A man may, outside of his business, spend all and even more than his profits in the business; nevertheless he must pay tax on all nett business profits except the $600 And so with a salary, all over $600 must be taxed, though per sonal or family expenses consume it all.

The Income Tax for the year 1862 is [illegible] due on the first day of May, 1863, and is due and payable on or before the 30th June, 1863 And any sums due and unpaid for thirty days after the 30th June, as aforesaid, and for ten days after demand by the Collector, five per centum will be added to the amount unpaid

Each individual of any firm or partnership must make up his income separately.

The MORNING OREGONIAN has a larger SUBSCRIPTION LIST than any other Daily published in this City.

PLEASURE EXCURSION.—The fast running and trim built steamer Leviathan Capt H Hoyt, having been recently refitted, repaired and improved by the addition of upper cabins etc. for passenger purposes, made a pleasure trip yesterday afternoon, having on board some 40 or 50 of our citizens. After proceeding a time or two past the city, she started off down the river after the Belle amid the cheers of hundreds of persons on shore, and lively, spirit stirring strains of "Sedgwick Band" on board The boat, with many of those on board, having a pretty good appetite for salt salmon, of course soon overhauled the Belle, and, notwithstanding the Captain of the latter attempted to head her off by running near shore, the Leviathan succeeded in getting her bow; then, turning, she described a complete circle and started off some three hundred yards ahead of the Belle She continued her course down the river to Dr. Ca[mpbell]'s wharf, where she hove to and took on a supply of fuel, etc., etc. The Doctor opened the bank, with the bright emblem of the Nation's greatness in his hand, which he continued to wave while the band played "Yankee Doodle," "Hail Columbia," and other patriotic tunes. After having "steamed up" and disposed of a bushel of the Doctor's good apples, the Leviathan and her jolly crew started for home. Perceiving the Hunt a short distance behind, the latter fired shot once or twice across the river, to see if the trial was sufficiently near for a trial of speed. She then blew her whistle and struck for the Hunt, passing the Hunt half a length or more before reaching the wharf, thus proving conclusively that, notwithstanding her size in these waters she can "walk" right along in speed.

THE "JOHN H. COUCH."—This new steamer, built specially in Charles Holman's Willamette shipyard, during the popular name of one of Portland's citizens, who is as worthy of the honor as any man in Oregon—[illegible] is to any vessel to have such a name given here on Wednesday in tow of the Belle. Her model is beautiful, promising great speed, and her speed cannot fail to be equal to that of any boat on our rivers. She is a staunch built, and will carry a full cargo, while for towing she is superior to any steamer heretofore employed on the Columbia. She will be immediately taken to Oak Point, her upper works completed in a substantial manner, and her boilers put in, and will, now ready to go on board, be put in position. We shall hereafter give a more particular description. It is the intention of Capt. Holman to have her ready for use by the 15th of May.

The bark Samuel Merrill, Joseph [illegible] master, arrived from San Francisco [illegible]. She was ten days on the passage, encountering light winds from the south and [illegible] the weather all the way up. ## The Crossing at Fredericksburg.

December 11th, 1862

I lay in my tent at midday
Too full of pain to die
When I heard the voice of Burnside
And an answering shout reply

I heard the voice of the General—
The voice that in battle and storm
But the fear that I knew that a question
Laughed out till the hills were glad

"Oh commade open the curtain,
And see where our men are bound,
For my heart is still in my bosom
As that terrible marching sound

"And hark, what the General orders,
Now I could not catch his words
And I think we are that heavy and movement
That scares and rabbits and birds

"Lie still, my Captain
'Tis a call for volunteers
And the men that's across your river
Is only our soldiers cheers

"Where go they? Across the river
O good, and must I lie still
While the front from that measure of trampling
Move from us far down the hill

"How many all judge four hundred
Who are they? I know to a man
"Our own Minnesota and Twentieth,
And the seventh Michigan

"Oh to go but to go with my comrades
Tear the curtain away from the book,
For I'll see them march down to the glory
If I perish by the look

They leaped in the rocking shallops,
The suffered where none could go
And the breeze was alive with laughter
Till the bottom began to row

Then the shore, where the rebels harbored,
Was fringed with a gush of flame
And a pause, like love over the water
The swarm of their bullets came

In silence how dread and solemn!
With courage, how grand and true!
Steadily steadily onward
The line of the shallops drew

Not a whisper! Each man was conscious
He stood in the light of death;
So he is wed to the awful presence,
And treasured his living breath

Twixt death in the air above them
And death in the waves below,
Through balls and grape and shrapnel
They moved—my God! how slow!

And many a brave, stout fellow
Who sprang in the boats with mirth,
Ere they made the fatal crossing
Was a load of lifeless earth.

And many a brave, stout fellow,
Whose limbs with strength were rife,
Was torn, and crushed, and shattered—
A helpless wreck for life.

But yet the boats moved onward
Through fire and lead they drove
With the dark, still mass within them,
And the floating Stars above

So loud and near it sounded,
I started at the shout,
As the keels ground on the gravel,
And the eager men burst out

Cheer after cheer we sent them,
As only armies can—
Cheers for old Massachusetts,
Cheers for young Michigan!

They formed in line of battle,
Not a man was out of place
Then with leveled steel they hurled them
Straight in the rebels' face.

"Oh help me, help me, comrade!
For tears my eyelids drown,
And I see their starry banners
Strewn up that reddened town

"And see the noisy workmen
Over the lengthening bridges run,
And the troops that swarm to cross them
Minus the rapid work be done

"For the old heat, or a new one,
Flames up in every vein;
And with fever or with passion
I am faint as death again

"If this is death, I care not!
Hear me, men, from rear to van
One more cheer for Massachusetts,
And one more for Michigan!"

—Philadelphia North American.

No Peace Without the Union!—The public heart revolts at the idea of "Peace" until the purpose of the War is accomplished. If it takes three months or three years, traitors must be punished and the Union restored. If the question were put to any loyal man to-day—"Shall the Nation succumb to Rebellion without further effort to subdue it?" the response would be an indignant "No!" And in this category we place ninety nine hundredths of the Democratic party. Not one of those who set themselves up as the leaders of that party—whatever his sympathies or wishes—dare advocate an immediate and unconditional suspension of hostilities. They may find fault with the conduct of the War, with the Presidency, with the Cabinet and with Congress, they may denounce the Administration, its principles and its policy, but they will be careful how they demand "Peace" so long as a single Rebel remains in arms against the Republic.

No man who hopes for a political future will advocate anything less than the restoration of the whole Union, and the return to their allegiance of every State and of every citizen of every State, from the Potomac to the Gulf. For the Union is stronger than any man or any party. It is stronger than Presidents or Cabinets; stronger than Congress or Generals, stronger than Slavery or Anti-Slavery. Whoever is for it, first, last, and always, will triumph. Whoever thinks compliancently of its permanent dismemberment, is a traitor, and we never shall counsel anything less than its complete restoration, should die a traitor's death.

The People appreciate the terrible evils of War. They feel its burthens. They mourn over the carnage inseparable from it. They shrink from the contemplation of the precious blood which has been and which still must be shed in its prosecution. Their hearts are sad in view of the untold graves yet to be filled by sons and brothers, whose love of country is stronger than love of life. But above and beyond all these gloomy pictures they see a RESTORED UNION, and they find in that a sufficient compensation for all these terrible afflictions. Will those who give their sons and brothers and husbands and fathers to achieve this great end, be content with anything less? Those who think so, do not appreciate the intensity of the patriotism which cheerfully makes these sublime sacrifices. Let but the proclamation be distinctly made, by any man or set of men, that the War must cease with Treason unpunished, and a feeling would be aroused which would speedily convince the world that there is in the hearts of our People to-day a spirit of Patriotism as deep and as fervid as that which inspired and gave victory to the Fathers of the Republic.

It is the misfortune of the hour that this spirit is held in abeyance by the petty contentions of party men and ambitious partisans. But let those beware who mistake this seeming apathy for real indifference. What we need is "not dead but sleepeth." In due time it will be aroused as when Sumter was assailed, not again to wane until that is accomplished for which our treasure is given and our homes made desolate.—Albany Evening Journal.

Hope on, Hope ever.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Commercial Advertiser says:—"While it is useless to conceal that the political horizon here is dark and gloomy, there is no need to despair. 'All is not lost while honor remains,' and if those that croak and groan would but exert themselves to support the Government heartily, they might soon see the old ship of state under way again, with the broad banner of freedom flying proudly from her mastheads. Certain it is that a dissolution and separation are out of the question. The North must conquer the South, or the South will conquer the North, and reconstruct (that is the word) the Government to suit itself."

On March 28th seventy mules arrived at Victoria from Honolulu, S. I.

PROSPECTUS.

DEMOCRATIC STATE JOURNAL

The JOURNAL will be devoted to the discussion of the principles and measures of the Democratic party, as set up in the platform of the State and National Democratic party, by which the late victories in the States of New York, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Illinois and New Jersey were achieved. It will contend for and maintain the rights of the States and the Constitution as they were understood by the framers of that instrument, and will endeavor to restore the Government to the principles of Washington, Jefferson and Jackson. It shall be the aim of the JOURNAL to treat the Democratic party and its opponents fairly, speaking of truth and falsehood, and discussing with candor, fully and fearlessly, with no fear or favor, every question of interest to the people of Oregon and the American Citizen.

In regard to the Union, it will be the object of the Journal by discussing all its columns to aid the Union cause, by operations in the executive, legislative and judicial fields East of the Cascade Mountains, and will endeavor to furnish all the information possible from the army, and will give such general news from the seat of war as will be interesting to the public.

In regard to the affairs of the State both general and local, it will endeavor to furnish all the different local items of interest, and will give the latest news from Washington City. INDUCED by the extensive sale and universal popularity of Hoofland's German Bitters (purely vegetable), bosom ignorant Quacks and unscrupulous adventurers have resorted upon suffering humanity the flood-gates of their vile trash in the shape of poor Whisky, falsely compounded with injurious drugs and christened Tonics, Bitters and Invigorators.

Beware of the innumerable array of Alcoholic preparations called Bitters and big bellied kegs, under the modest appellation of Bitters which instead of curing only aggravate disease and leave the disappointed sufferer in despair.

Hoofland's German Bitters!

Are not a new and untried article, but have stood the test of fifteen years' trial by the American public; and their reputation and sale are not rivalled by any similar preparation.

The proprietors have thousands of letters from the most eminent

CLERGYMEN,
LAWYERS,
PHYSICIANS
and CITIZENS,

Testifying of their own personal knowledge to the beneficial effects and medical virtues of these Bitters.

Do you want something to strengthen you?
Do you want a good appetite?
Do you want to build up your constitution?
Do you want to feel well?
Do you want to get rid of nervousness?
Do you want energy?
Do you want to sleep well?
Do you want a brisk and vigorous feeling?

If so use HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

From Rev. J. Newton Brown, D. D., Editor of the Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge.

Although not disposed to favor or recommend Patent Medicines in general, through distrust of their ingredients and effects, I yet know of no sufficient reason why a man may not rectify to the benefit he believes himself to have received from any simple preparation in the hope that he may thus contribute to the benefit of others.

I do this the more readily in regard to Hoofland's German Bitters prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson of this city, because I was prejudiced against them for many years under the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture. I am indebted to my friend Robert Shoemaker, Esq., for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests, and for encouragement to try them when suffering from great and long continued debility. The use of three bottles of these Bitters at the beginning of the present year, was followed by evident relief and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor which I had not felt for six months before, and had almost despaired of regaining. I, therefore, thank God and my friend for directing me to the use of them. J. NEWTON BROWN.

PHILADELPHIA, June 25, 1861.

PARTICULAR NOTICE.

There are many preparations sold under the name of Bitters, put up in quart bottles, composed of the cheapest whiskey or common rum, costing from 20 to 40 cents per gallon, the taste disguised by Anise or Coriander Seed.

This class of Bitters has existed, and will continue to exist, as long as they can be sold, hundreds to the death of the drunkard. By their use the system is kept constantly under the influence of Alcoholic Stimulants of the worst kind, the desire for Liquor is created and kept up, and the result of it is all the horrors attendant upon a drunkard's life and death.

If any think who desire and will have a Liquor Bitters, we publish Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters and say with them, the result will be a preparation that will far excel in medicinal virtues and true excellence any of the numerous Liquor Bitters in the market, and will cost much less. For well have all the virtues of Hoofland's Bitters in connection with a good article of Liquor, at a much less price than these inferior preparations will cost you.

ATTENTION, SOLDIERS!

AND THE FRIENDS OF SOLDIERS.

We call the attention of all having relations or friends in the army to the fact that "HOOFLAND'S German Bitters" will cure nine-tenths of the diseases induced by exposures and privations incident to camp life. In the late, published almost daily in the newspapers, on the arrival of the sick, it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility. Every case of the kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. Discharges resulting from disorders of the digestive organs are speedily removed. We have no hesitation in stating that, if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise will be lost.

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure of one of this nation's heroes who, while he was using his own language, has been saved by the Bitters:

PHILADELPHIA, August 23, 1862.

Messrs. Jones & Evans—Well, gentlemen, your Hoofland's German Bitters has saved my life. There is no mistake in this. It is vouched for by numbers of my comrades, some of whose names are appended, and who were fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case. I am, and have been for the last four years, a member of Sherman's celebrated battery, and under the immediate command of Captain R. B. Ayres. Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties, I was attacked in November last with inflammation of the lungs, and was for seventy two days in the hospital. This was followed by great debility, heightened by an attack of dysentery, which then removed from the White House, and sent to this city on board the steamer State of Maine, from which I landed on the 28th of June. Since that time I have been about as low as one could be and still retain a spark of vitality. For a week or more I was scarcely able to swallow anything, and if I did force a morsel down, it was immediately thrown up again.

I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach. Life could not last under these circumstances, and accordingly the physicians who had been working faithfully, though unsuccessfully to rescue me from the grasp of the dread Archer, frankly told me they could do no more for me, and advised me to see a clergyman, and to make such disposition of my limited funds as best suited me. A comrade with whom I was acquainted, who visited me at the hospital, Mr. Frederick Steinbruck, of Sixth below Arch Street, advised me, as a final hope, to try your Hoofland's German Bitters, and kindly procured a bottle. From the first I commenced taking them the gloomy shadows of death receded, and I am now, thank God for it, getting better. Though I have taken but two bottles, I have gained ten pounds, and I feel sanguine of being permitted to rejoin my wife and daughters, from whom I have heard nothing for eighteen months. For gentlemen, I am a loyal Virginian from the vicinity of Front Royal. To your invaluable Bitters I owe the certainty of life, which has taken the place of vague fears. To your Bitters will I owe the glorious privilege of again clasping to my bosom those who are dearest to me in life.

Very truly yours, ISAAC MALONE.

We fully concur in the truth of the above statement, as we had despaired of seeing our comrade, Mr. Malone, restored to life.

The GREAT SUCCESS of this CENTURY is an AID to PRACTICAL MEDICINE

The Mysterious Problem of Material Nature, Electricity made subservient for the Cure of all Nervous and Spinal Diseases

THAT THIS PRINCIPLE, SUCCESSFULLY APPLIED to diseased states of the system, is to prove the great remedy for necessity, I am wanting by physicians, to all there will turn in every ailing organic and functional derangements of the human body. It is a part of that great principle of vitality known as nervous influence, and necessarily must have much to do in obviating disease and suffering.

Too Much Cannot be Said

In its praise, for it is highly probable that in health there is an exact equilibrium of the electric principle, and should this secret and sudden exposure of health in person, or nerve, should the body be negatively electrified when it should be positively charged—its not the current broken, and is there not a wear of force going on in the system? This needs correcting and in order that the disease of the body should be perceptible to remedial agents, we must first restore and

The spinal and sympathetic nerve systems. Believing as I do most frankly in this great magnetic or electrical law of life on earth, with its influence upon our bodies in health and disease, I am led to take advantage of the Press, through which to awaken attention to the subject, that good may come to all.

No Compromise with Disease.

Give the body strength, and nature will relieve. Purify the life-blood, render the stomach, liver, heart, kidneys and all the natural functions active by regular exercise, and even the aged the palsied, the nervous, the dispirited, the melancholic and the dyspeptic and the ill, would revive under its benign influence.

To the Ladies of California.

Dr. Van Zandt's success with complaints of women, both in family and office practice is owing to his views of the origin of all their maladies. Ladies can consult him with entire confidence, as he is no speculator upon females' ills—but is proving himself the only member of the legitimate profession in California who has really succeeded in removing those ills which are the peculiar properties of the sex. His high appreciation of their delicately attuned nervous organism, together with their great susceptibility, renders him doubly able to assuage those direful complaints which they bear so patiently and so long. No female disquietude need longer afflict one so inclined, as to awaken the stricken energies; restore the wasted tone of the body, awaken the melancholic and despondent to mirth; ease pains which cause so much anxiety; and dispel profoun maladies which have so long.

Baffled the Skill of Physicians,

Develope appetite life and animation, dispel nervousness, ache, sickness at the stomach, wandering pains, wear away of strength, extreme debility and lifelessness, restless cough sleeplessness, unpleasant dreams and that general depression of life's powers, which go to render her life solitary and death a boon. All the world over wherever disease exists, whether special to the soil, climate or common to all regions—epidemic or casual, or common to all regions—epidemic or contagious—it is the province of Dr. Van Zandt to restore the ELECTRO-GALVANIC equilibrium, as all in California, as it is to give food to the hungry. The department is based upon a series of facts extending many years, and verified by hundreds of patients. It is no principle of science, no rule of experience, no law, and any well known cause, rests upon more sure and reliable foundations, than those which underlie the Doctor's reputation of Electricity for the cure of all nervous diseases of the body, faulty digestion, mental and physical prostration, coughs, asthma, wandering pains, rheumatic, gouty or mercurial character, and all forms of disease, the result of scrofula or constitutional taint.

None Need Despair of Relief.

Very many of those sad and sore troubles are purely deranged nerves, and are cured by his electro-galvanic battery—and the squinting, cataract, flowing specks before the eyes, the twitching of the eyelids, nervous deafness, and the buzzing noises in the ears, giddiness, etc., are all successfully done on those delicate organs of sight and hearing.
